Subject: Air quality

The air quality here has to be addressed. I grew up in a city where ashpits stunk up the air until they were outlawed.. Now I look out my window this morning, and no it is not overcast - it is smog from open burning. It's not from forest fires. I hate spending my summers here. If word gets around about this, nobody will be able to sell their residence (no I don't want to do that).

The smog in the city isn't this bad. What are you going to do about it? Does the State need to address this health problem?
